	Institutional Development Plan	The Institutional Development Plan (IDP) of The Apollo University provides a strategic roadmap for the University's long-term academic, research, innovation, infrastructure and institutional growth. It aims to strengthen the University as a healthcare-focused, multidisciplinary and research-driven institution, integrating education with the clinical expertise and ecosystem of Apollo. The IDP focuses on academic excellence, outcome-based education, interdisciplinary programmes, research and innovation, industry-hospital-academic collaborations, faculty development, student employability, digital transformation, internationalisation and community engagement. It also provides a framework for systematic development of infrastructure, laboratories, learning resources and institutional support systems. The Plan will be implemented through measurable objectives, defined timelines, Key Performance Indicators (KPIs), periodic monitoring and stakeholder participation, ensuring continuous quality improvement and alignment with NEP 2020, UGC requirements, NAAC/NIRF frameworks and national priorities.
